BUILDING A BRIGHT FUTURE FOR HEALTHCARE FOODSERVICE

The Association for Healthcare Foodservice Chicago Midwest Chapter is a professional society that serves as the crossroads of creativity, innovation, efficiency, and well-being.

We are dedicated to serving professionals in the self-operated healthcare foodservice industry. Our members represent those healthcare facilities that, by choosing to keep their foodservice departments in house instead of outsourcing them to third-party contractors, keep food and nutrition at the core of the healthcare experience.

Self-operated foodservice professionals manage some of the most successful and creative departments in healthcare. Our operators and business partners work together to create the dialogue that defines the future of the healthcare foodservice experience, while advancing our vision of self-operated healthcare foodservice as industry best practice.

Our tools and resources. We provide education, networking, and recognition to support our members as they decrease costs, increase satisfaction, and deliver exemplary operating performance.
